Upcoming "Safe Travel" Course

The National Center will be hosting the "Safe Travel for All Children" special needs training course here at Riley Hospital on November 9-10. Registration is free to Indiana residents, and there are still a few seats left for the course. Please go to the "Training Dates" section of our website (www.preventinjury.org) for more information. We hope to see you there!

New Car Seat Updates

Merritt Car Seat recently began taking orders for the Wallenberg (aka Wally), which is designed for children with hip casts. The first shipments of the Wally left the Merritt facility on September 26, and Merritt is expected to make daily shipments of the car seat for the foreseeable future. In other Merritt news, the Roosevelt large medical seat now comes in multiple color options, and the Churchill adaptive booster seat can be ordered with a 5-point harness rather than the vest. Please refer to www.merrittcarseat.com for more details.

R82 also has a couple of new seats due to hit the market in the near future. The Wallaroo large medical seat is replacing the Traveller Plus EL, which was discontinued by Britax at the end of 2015. R82 is currently taking orders on the Wallaroo, and it will have a full complement of accessories available by this December. R82 is also going to be re-releasing the Hippo at some point this year. We do not have any further details on its release, so stay tuned.
